Introduction by founder Chika Vincent

Lesson from Luke 15: 28 - 32

This is a famous passage in the bible about a man who had two sons. However, I want to draw attention to the reaction of the eldest son and his reaction to the love expressed by the father towards the youngest son who had squandered his share of his inheritance. The picture here is of God and us, his children, and to me, the picture painted here is the contrast between Grace and Law.

Verse 28 - the elder son was angry and refused to go in to join the celebration because he believed that his brother did not receive the punishment deserved by reason of his action. However, we are told that love covers a multitude of sin, Love does not keep record of wrong done to him. The father demonstrated the same love shown towards the other son by coming out to meet him. God is always making movement towards us, and we are to be wise to respond.

Verses 29-31 - the eldest son believed that his self-righteousness has earned his father's favour,. He mistook servitude for relationship, therefore believing that he is entitled to his father's favour. Everything that we receive, including our righteousness, is from God. It is not based upon our goodness or on the things we do or fail to do but through faith in the finished work of Christ Jesus our saviour (John 3:27, James 1:17). Our relationship with God is purely based upon His love towards us and what we do in return is an expression of the love we have received.

"1. Before I encountered you I thought God is a certain angry man waiting for us to default so that he can punish us. But now have learnt that God is so loving, caring and has made all the necessary provisions for my life. I have realised that God deals with us like a father and son affairs. This has really changed the hard thoughts I had about God.

2. I thought only men of God can know God and even with that they must be 40 years or more before they can know him. But now have learnt that as I build a consistent fellowship with God, I will get to know him personally. I now believe I can know God by having fellowship with him through the word which forms the basis of all the spiritual routines needed for my spiritual development and successes.

3. I have also learned that God has made all the provisions for my life in the spirit and all I need to do is to claim them. I don't need to be begging him for my needs. After my encounter with you I now focus on the spiritual things than always asking for bread.

4. I use to win souls, but I didn't really disciple them. So sooner or later they backslide. But now knowing that new converts are established in the Lord by disciplining them, my focus now is to disciple any soul I win, not as I was doing previously. By this they will grow in the Lord and win others and disciple them.

5. I was struggling to differentiate, between the voice of God and the devil. But now I know the voice of God goes with the truth. Any voice or thoughts which is contrary to the word of God is from the devil while the voice of God is in line with his word."
